

Klish Group Inc. Component Guide for OpenText™ TeamSite is now available

Hopefully you have all seen the OpenText TeamSite 16.4 release notification by now. Klish Group is proud to have developed the following set of components and templates:

- Reusable add-on components: New library of reusable components and templates from the OpenText™ Developer Network. These templates deliver rich media, social and content engagement features that allow users to easily maintain web and digital content for any end-point.

These assets are compatible with prior versions of Experience Studio without an upgrade and downloads are available from the Developer Network now:
